

It's The Unseen Value That Really Counts!

It's a bold statement but true. The unseen portion of the memorial you buy counts more than you realize. With the average monument weighing over 3/4 ton it takes a well designed foundation to support a stone monument properly.

Naturally, we would love to help you pick the perfect memorial for your loved one or for a pre-need situation. The beauty of God's creation is apparent in the many colors of stone. The talents of men and women are evident in the beautiful designs of our monuments. It is our pleasure and responsibility to help you make an appropriate choice. It is our obligation to make sure your investment is properly installed.

It seems easy enough to provide good product and service and that's how it should be. But some monument companies do a poor job of setting the stone memorials they sell. In fact, in the photo on the left you can see that the stone is tilting to the left. The photo was taken just 7 days after it was set. The company responsible for this installation did a hasty job. The foundation was too weak to keep the monument level. In the months and years to come it will most likely look like the one in the picture on the right below.

Our foundations are meticulously prepared to ensure that the memorial you purchased from us is correctly installed and that it will remain level and plumb for generations to come. In the diagram below you can see that we use steel reinforcing rods and high strength concrete to prepare a level foundation. We then allow 7 days for the concrete to set and become impervious to water and movement before we set the memorial. Most monument companies use no steel and very thin foundations with no waiting period.

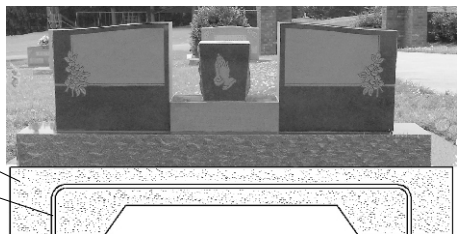

There is no secret to setting a monument properly, but it does take some extra time and materials. More than that, it takes a team of people who care about the service they provide when honoring the life of the one you have loved. We feel that when you see the quality of our service and workmanship you will choose a company that is on the level about how we treat our customers and the monuments we sell.
